Press Release

Five unique projects usher in the new year for Aqua Vista Hotels

Aqua Vista Hotels made a dynamic start to 2018 by undertaking five new units in Santorini in the first two months of the year and extending its partnership with one already existing property. The Group has added four strategically located hotels to its extensive portfolio as well as a superb villa, consolidating its presence in this luxury sector.

Having the experience and foresight to recognise the potential of up and coming destinations, the Group has invested in two unique properties in Megalochori, one of the most rapidly developing areas on the island. Villa Artemis bears all the characteristics of the traditional 'cave' dwellings of Santorini while radiating a sense of luxury that makes it the perfect exclusive retreat. The second addition, White Harmony Suites, is a brand new collection of suites with their own private pool or jacuzzi and far-reaching sea views, all of which are guaranteed to make an outstanding impression.

Anchor Suites is the third latest collaboration of Aqua Vista Hotels and offers truly romantic views in Oia, the sunset capital of the island. The fourth project promises an equally unique stay and is also the Group's prime unit in the village of Karterados. Angel Suites of 1870 is the first structure to have been built in this settlement and boasts the typical traditional architectural style of the period. Sunshine Hotel is the Group's third property in Kamari and offers authentic hospitality, with its beach-front location and seaside restaurant making it an extremely attractive destination.

Apart from the new arrivals, Aqua Vista Hotels has extended an already existing collaboration with Asteras Villas, signing a 5 year lease of the unit that lies in the heart of Santorini in Fira. Asteras Villas boasts spectacular views of the caldera, while its luxurious rooms and high level of services promise an absolutely unforgettable stay.

Commenting on all of the recent developments, Business Development Manager of Aqua Vista Hotels Mrs Sofia Matzourani stated; "2017 was a really productive year for us with the addition of more collaborations as well as several distinctions which signify important recognition of our work. The new year began just as positively, setting the precedent for another successful season which we are definitely looking forward to. We would like to welcome our new part-
